City To Mail Out Sunset Ballot Argument

Hugh Bayless, Carmel's City clerk, announced this week that he was, in accordance with law, having the argument in favor of the purchase of Sunset School printed up to be mailed out with the sample ballots which are to be sent to registered voters.

He said that the law requires him to publish and distribute to voters any arguments for or against any measure similar to the Sunset issue. Since there were no arguments filed against the measure, he added, none will be distributed to voters.

The statement which will be mailed to voters reads as follows:

"A 'Yes' vote on this proposition will give the taxpayers of Carmel an unheard-of opportunity. Carmel can obtain for community use, at a reasonable price and with no increase in taxes, a large parcel of irreplaceable land in the heart of the City. The City's financial consultants have found that bonds to purchase the site can be repaid with a portion of the revenue from the 3% transient lodging tax (Motel Tax). It is the intention of the City Council to pay off the bonds with not more than half of the Motel Tax receipts.

"In adopting the 1957 General Plan for Carmel, the community indicated that it wanted this property used for a community and cultural center. Purchase of this property will be an important step in assuring the preservation of Carmel's traditional character — that of a non-commercial, culturally oriented, residential community, attractive to visitors of a desirable type.

"No comparable parcel of land in the City could be acquired for a community and cultural center at so low a cost. If an adequate public auditorium is not maintained, Carmel stands to lose its Music Society, its symphony concerts, the nationally-famous Bach Festival, and many other cultural endeavors.

"The School District desires to sell Sunset School in order to improve the efficiency of its educational system. The City desires to buy the property for the perpetual use of the citizens of Carmel.

"To set Carmel on the way to achieve its community and cultural center, with no increase in taxes, cast your 'Yes' vote on Tuesday, April 14, and urge you friends and neighbors to do the same."

Board of Realtors Lauds Sunset Plan

At its regular monthly meeting on March 13, the Carmel Board of Realtors voted to support the City of Carmel in its efforts to acquire the Sunset School property.

Councilman Frank Putnam, who is also a member of the Board, answered questions from the floor concerning the recent Stone and Youngberg feasibility study. "This is a priceless opportunity to acquire nearly four acres in the heart of the city for community purposes," said Putnam. The Board enthusiastically agreed and promptly passed the resolution of support.

In this resolution to support the city, the Board of Realtors joined the Carmel Business Association and many other interested organizations.

Action at Unified School District Board Meeting

At the Board of Education, Carmel Unified School District meeting, held last Wednesday evening in the Arthur Holman Music Building of Carmel High School. C.H.S. Principal Warren Edwards and staff member Charles Moody gave a report on the Advanced Placement program at the high school.

The program is designed primarily to help prepare interested students for college entrance examinations. The only regularly scheduled class in this program at the present time is a course entitled Western Civilization, with 15 students enrolled. Teachers and students use their free time, lunch periods and study periods to participate in AP courses in chemistry, U.S. History and English. The students participating in this program are not only those academically talented, but students who are interested and enjoy the advanced areas of study. Mr. Moody said that all of the participating teachers hope that, budget permitting, the AP program may be expanded to more regularly scheduled classes in the next school year as some colleges give credits for these courses taken in high school.

Dr. Walter Klas, junior high school principal, reported on the progress of the program at the junior high and some results of student testing there.

In the STEP-SCAT tests required by the state of California, the students showed that there are many more of them in the top pencentiles than is average for all schools in the state. For gifted students there are special groupings for English, biology and math.

Mr. Charles Sciutto, vice-principal of the high school presented to the board a preliminary report of the Language Committee for

Junior Symphony Debut Saturday Evening

The Monterey County Symphony's Junior Orchestra will make its debut Saturday evening with a performance at 8 o'clock in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium. The public is invited to attend without charge.

The 53 member ensemble was organized last October under the auspices of the Monterey County Symphony Assn., with the cooperation of the county's unified school districts, and represents a wide sampling of communities within the county.

Monterey County Symphony conductor John Gosling, director of the group which has met for bi-monthly rehearsals since its inauguration, is assisted by four representatives of the unified school districts, Charles Harlan, Owen Dunsford, Lloyd 'Bill' Clapper and Dean Dempsey.

The program to be performed includes Mozart's "Shepherd King"; the allegro movement from Handel's "Water Music Suite"; Purcell's "Air and Rondo in D Minor; Schubert's "Rosamunde Overture"; Handel's "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor," Leroy Anderson's "Syncopated Clock" and Charles Harlan's "Arioso for Orchestra."

The Saturday evening performance will be presented through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, local 616, by a grant from the Musician's Performance Trust Funds of the Recording Industry.

Wind IN THE Pines

BY DON MARSHALL

Recently Miss Charlotte Townsend joined our staff and was awestruck when she was privileged to use Perry Newberry's very own desk.

Being a tidy type, however, she was not so awestruck by the dust which had collected within the desk since Perry, so she began to clean it up.

She was so thorough that she even took the drawers out to find what was cluttering them from behind. It was during this process that she came upon a real treasure.

It was a letter dated Feb. 4, 1909, from a Charles A. Cohen to a Mr. Thomas B. Dozier, who had adjacent offices in San Francisco's First National Bank Building. It read as follows:

"Dear Mr. Dozier:

I acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 3rd inst. enclosing my Check No. 1613 in your favor for One Thousand Dollars, ($1,000.00) also return of contract of sale on the Commercial Hotel Property.

Yours very truly,
(sig) Charles A. Cohen."

Well, to be honest, I still can't figure the thing out, but it appears that somebody sold somebody else a hotel for a thousand bucks. Sounds like a pretty good deal, even for 1909.

By the way, if you want to call and see if there is any more property available, the number on the stationery is Kearny 371.

P.S. A free one-year subscription to anyone who can tell us more about this.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Carmel Pine Cone
Dear Editor:

This is an open letter to the people of Carmel and surrounding areas.

It appears that a move is well on the way to destroy the Sunset School and Auditorium, and to erect on the property a so-called Cultural Center.

I am of the feeling that in Carmel Culture is getting to be like Motherhoow — you can't say anything against it. So a very expensive project is proposed under the Culture Image, and it is doubtful if the Center, as proposed, will help develop more artists, writers, or musicians. Culture comes as sincere practice of the arts by local people not from building a hall in which to watch artists from other places perform.

Would there be studios to rent to writers, to students of the dance, to musicians? Would there be workshop groups for beginning writers.

Do the people of Carmel know, does the City Council know that young artists and many craftsmen cannot afford to live in Carmel any more? How ironic that the Artist who had so much to od with making this a place of individuality and Individuals cannot in many cases pay the cost of living in his creation.

Let us face it — the Tourist is top dog around here these days. It is our business that he be bedded down, wined and dined, and entertained. There are more beds for rent than a year ago and there will be more a year from now. Conventions fill up these motels. A 1500 seat auditorium is great for conventions. The rental of the hall for such purpose will help pay for the Cultural Center.

There is another point. When the old building is razed and the new one arises, the only playground where the kids can play softball within the city will be gone. Young children should not have to go up and cross Highway 1 to reach the High School playing fields — a place where they should not have to play anyhow because of the age difference. But we will have Culture and a Three Tiered Garage.

Why not convert the classrooms of the old buildings into studios. Make a place where artists might want to gather to talk, to discuss. What of budding writers who want a nook in which to pound a typewriter. Soundproof some of the walls and you have places for the horn tooters. Put some ballet bars in a large room and charge student dancers a reasonable fee to use same.

The Sunset Auditorium is, I suppose, inadequate. I would hate to see it go but the back stage facilities are lousy and there are apparently not enough seats. Perhaps it could be replaced by a new auditorium and the rest of the structure converted.

Much has been done about saving the pine trees and planting new ones, but nothing about replacing the Vanishing Carmelite. Why not prepare a soil that will encourage vital growth?

Sincerely yours,
Sam B. Colburn

The only movement under way at present is the acquisition of the Sunset School property. A few months ago the PINE CONE and another paper published a suggested plan for the utilization of the site in the belief that it would stimulate thought about what should be placed on the site. Apparently it has.

This reader's letter raises some highly valid points concerning the future use of the Sunset School property, points which will doubtless be considered in the future when the final plans are laid.

It should be pointed out, however, that the plan which we published was merely a top-of-the-head rambling by a designer to see if the property could, indeed, contain such a center. It should in no way be considered as even remotely resembling the final structure which may be placed on the site.—Ed.

what's doing?

Here's a comforting thought: tonight, when you switch off your lights, your telephone will stay on. There's always an operator like Patricia Eichhorn (at left) ready to give you a number in a hurry, or lend a helping hand in an emergency. And there are test crews and repairmen on the job, too. They check telephone circuits and equipment while you sleep; often fixing troubles before they happen.

Chances are you won't need your phone after you turn out the lights tonight. But isn't it nice to know that it's there if you need it, ready and waiting?

DOWN TO THE SEA

BY LES BOSSHARDT, Master Mariner

"I must go down to the seas again,
To the lonely sea and the sky." — MASEFIELD

TORPEDO JUNCTION: Any afternoon at Frank Cefalu's boat hoist on wharf number two you can see the fishermen who have been on the bay all day trying to deck a salmon, tying into the largest sandwich that this sailor has seen anywhere. Frances, Frank's wife, puts together this gastronomical giant called a torpedo. Those who have been fishing the greater part of the day are fit, appetite wise, to tie into these biggies. This place could become famous through the serving of this hungry sailor's delight.

EAST WIND TRANSFORMATION: Wonder who else saw the mirage on the bay about noon Monday. Viewed from the pilot house it made the PG&E plant in Moss Landing some 13 miles away appear as a giant fortress complete with battlements and towers, and much closer. The hills from Moss Landing toward Santa Cruz took on the appearance of great palisades. Quite a show and the first one I have ever seen on Monterey Bay.. Cause: A hard east wind blowing off the desert across a cooler body of water. No mystery, but it just does not happen very often hereabouts.

M.P.Y.C. ACTIVITIES: At noon Sunday 20 wind ships of the Monterey Peninsula Yacht Club sailed the second race of the year on a triangular course starting off Wharf Two. This was the second in a series of races to be sailed this year. The MPYC is indeed an active club and has nice turnouts for all races and other activities hereabout. The class A winner was Sayonara sailed by Jim Womble and Harvey Kilpatrick. The class B winner was Mermaid 18, sailed by Kent Clark. Well done, skippers.

TO LIGHT THE WAY: Don McCormick, the owner-skipper of Tamarit, the fine and able schooner that has been a part of the Monterey water front for a long time, is home just off a nine-month cruise to romantic tropical ports on the west coast of Mexico. Don and his nice wife are opening a candeleria in Angelo's restaurant on Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey. They will sell candles and lamps from the four corners of the earth. May all your winds be fair and you prosper ten-fold. It could not happen to a pair of better people of the sea.

NAUTICAL KNOW - HOW: Never place a portable fire extinguisher in the engine space. Place a fire extinguisher in close proximity to the engine space where it is easily accessible. Fire is most likely to start in and around the engine, cutting off your chances of using the extinguisher placed in the engine space.

WEATHERWISE: We in this area are in a large high pressure front that is practically stationary. We will have winds 25 to 35 knots through Thursday when this high pressure mass should weaken and the winds for Friday through Saturday should also weaken to 15 or 18 knots. The week end should be clear with some high fog Sunday afternoon. Wind for both days should not exceed 15 knots. Rain probabilities: 10 percent.

A Carmel Sextette South of The Border

With frolic as well as exploration their objective, six characters in search of adventure, flew off in two planes (their own) for Baja, California, several weeks ago. They found folk singers, who for a couple of pesos sang nostalgic or hilarious native songs, just for them. They saw scenery of unrivalled beauty, luxuriated in hotels of sophisticated elegance and visited a jail that had been out of bounds to lady visitors for half a century. They also found the spirits of the country, excellent.

Dr. and Mrs. Dexter Whitcomb of Carmel, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter and Dr. and Mrs. Douglas E. Chappell of Carmel Valley took to the air the latter part of February.

Their first stop was Mulege, an ancient village in Baja, California. With the Club Areo their headquarters ,the visitors were introduced to the joys and reward of digging for clams, the gourmet treasure of Mulege. "The prison, in the center of the village was a revelation," Mrs. Whitcomb said, "There were no barred windows, no gloomy ramparts. The prisoners, all men, (no women are imprisoned in that part of the world) were there on one of two counts, murder or rape.

"We were amazed, at first, to learn that the murderers were, during daylight hours, allowed the freedom of the town. The rapists were confined within the prison compound. Only after second thought did we appreciate the wisdom of the authorities. The rapists, set free, would be a menace to the women of Mulege while murderers, mostly convicted for crimes of vengeance or passion, were not apt to repeat. Anyway, we never once felt uncomfortable and we were the first white women to tour the federal prison within the memory of the town folk."

From Mulege the party went on to Loreto and the Sportsmen's Lodge where they fished for yellowfin; witnessed the far famed Hat Dance; watched the frolics of the porpoises and whales off shore and were entertained by traveling troubadours.

"Las Cruces Palmilla was our next stop," Mrs. Whitcomb remembered. "All through Baja I, at least, found the landing on the tiny dirt strips a bit terrifying, a native "marguerita" before and after certainly bolstered my courage. Palmilla, now a world famous resort, outshone all expectations. The beautiful hotel really deserves superlatives for its atmosphere of luxury, its faultless service and divine food in a setting that left us all breathless. Bing Crosby has a house in Palmilla. He and his family were due to arrive the day after we regretfully departed."

The Carmel sextette went on to Palm Springs after four days at Palmilla and rolled onto the Monterey Airport landingstrip Mar. 5.

Hellos and Goodbyes At Pebble Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Abel-Smith of London are currently visiting at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach.

This is Mrs. Abel-Smith's first trip to the United States. She retired ten years ago as lady-in-waiting to Queen Elizabeth.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor Pillsbury leave Pebble Beach this week for a cruise which will take them to the Islands and Australia and New Zealand. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown of Honolulu will join them.

Also registered at Del Monte Lodge at present are Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Humselsine of Williamsburg, Virginia. He is president of Williamsburg Restoration, Inc.

Jan Carpenter of Pebble Beach Weds Alexander Riley Wilson

Jan Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey L. Carpenter of Pebble Beach, became the bride of Alexander Riley Wilson at All Saints Episcopal Church in Carmel on Saturday, March 14.

Family members and intimate friends attended the two o'clock service read by the Reverend David Hill.

A reception followed at Del Monte Lodge in Pebble Beach, where the rooms were decorated with Spring flowers.

The pretty blonde bride, given in marriage by her father, chose an Italian silk linen gown made with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. Appliques of lilies of the valley and Venise lace adorned the floor length skirt, and a floating panel of the same material fell into a short train. The empire waistline was marked with tiny ball and fringe. A small pillbox trimmed with lace held her Chapel veil, and she carried a bouquet of phalanopsis and bouvardia.

Joan Carpenter was her sister's only attendant. Her pink floor length gown was fashioned of organza sheer over taffeta and trimmed with velvet. She wore a matching velvet bow in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

James Reeves of Vida, Missouri, served as best man, and Oren Owen and Douglas Washburn seated the guests.

Mrs. Carpenter greeted her guests in an ensemble combining an off-white dress with a light pink coat with which she wore a pink Milan straw hat. Her flowers were pink cymbidiums.

Mrs. Leone Greenough Campbell, mother of the new benedict, wore an avocado crepe jacket dress with matching hat and accessories and pinned on a corsage of green orchids.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Russell Fryburg of San Mateo, was in a cranberry silk suit and flowered hat.

When the newlyweds left Pebble Beach for their new home in Tempe, Arizona, the bride was wearing a bone wool suit with matching accessories.

The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Fryburg of San Mateo and the late Mr. and Mrs. Dewey L. Carpenter of Portland, Oregon, are her grandparents. Jan graduated from Santa Catalina School for Girls and attended Stephens College.

"Riley" is the son of Alexander A. Wilson III of Los Gatos and Mrs. Leone Greenough Campbell of Scottsdale, Arizona. His sisters are Mrs. Ferdinand Winston Good of Belton, Missouri, and Kim Campbell of Scottsdale, who attended the nuptials. He is a graduate of Orme Ranch and Judson Schools in Arizona, attended Peacock Military School in San Antonio, Texas, and has just completed three years in the Army Medical Corps. He is currently attending Arizona State College and working as a surgical technician in a hospital nearby.

Still A Few Vacancies In Bach Festival Chorus

With rehearsals of the local chorus of the 27th annual Carmel Bach Festival gaining impetus, the management announces that there is still opportunity for vocalists, men and women of the community to join this notable group.

This year's Festival will be held July 17 through July 26.

The chorus, with the Festival chorale, will sing in Johann Sebastian Bach's Mass in B Minor; Mozart's "Great" Mass in C Minor; the Bach cantata, No. 21, "Ich hatte viel Bekuemmernis," and Handel's "L'Allegro ed Il Penseroso."

Chorus rehearsals, held every Tuesday evening in the music building of Carmel High School, are under the direction of Stanford University organist, Kenneth A. Aherns.

As a graduate student, Mr. Aherns has been assistant organist at Stanford, continuing his study under Herbert Nanney.

Mr. Aherns is no stranger to Carmel and the Bach Festival, having acted as librarian and organist during 1962 and 1963.

Working with Mr. Aherns and and the Festival's renowned music director and conductor, Sandor Salgo, Mrs. Priscilla Salgo, dramatic coach, gives the chorus specialized training in diction and dramatic interpretation.

The Carmel Bach Festival local chorus has, since its inception, won critical acclaim for its contribution to the great music presented each season. Membership has unique rewards — professional training, the opportunity to sing with one of the country's outstanding festival orchestras, and the pride of belonging to a group long a tradition on Monterey Peninsula.

Auditions (essential to membership in the Chorus) are given by Conductor Sandor Salgo, by appointment, in Carmel. For further information and appointments for audition call 624-1521.

Monterey Peninsula Concert Association Presents Roger Wagner Chorale

The Monterey Peninsula Concert Association will present the Roger Wagner Chorale at Pacific Grove Junior High School Auditorium tomorrow evening at 8:15 o'clock, as the final concert in their current series.

Roger Wagner, founder and director of the Chorale, was born in France, son of the organist of the Cathedral of Dijon. At seven years of age, his family moved to Los Angeles. Showing great talent and promise, at 12 he became organist and choral director of the Church of St. Ambrose. Later he spent five years in France studying with the distinguished organist Marcel Dupre.

In 1937 he returned to Los Angeles and became a singer in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer chorus. Soon he became Musical Director of St. Joseph's Church in downtown Los Angeles, a post he still holds. Beginning with a madrigal group of 12 as a nucleus, he trained a large rg roup than became in 1947 the now famed Roger Wagner Chorale.

Roger Wagner is recognized as a prominent authority on religious music and was awarded a Doctor of Music degree from the University of Montreal. He is director of choral music at the University of California at Los Angeles and head of the choral department at Marymount College, in addition to being well known as a composer and arranger.

The Chorale numbers 24 voices, equally divided among men and women. The group has toured widely in America and Europe, and was chosen by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations to tour 10 Latin American countries last year. The Chorale has won distinction for notable performances with the Los Angeles Philharmonic, extensive recording for Capitol records, and many performances on major television shows.

The first two sections of the Chorale's program will be devoted to the Reanaissance, the first to religious music, and the second the less serious side of the period. Also included will be English Folk Songs by Vaughan Williams, the Liebeslieder Waltzes of Brahms, and Negro Spirituals. Toward the end will be "Everything and Anything," a recent composition by Ella Rose Halloran, with the composer at the piano.

Attendance at the concert is limited to members of the association, and members of similar associations on a space available basis.

Garden Expert Will Address Woman's Club

Miss Gretchen Wahl, Chairman of the Garden Section for the Carmel Woman's Club, announces that the speaker for the March meeting will be Mr. Harry Diffenbaugh of the Green Thumb Nursery in Monterey.

The meeting will be held in the club rooms next Monday, at 2 p.m. Mr. Diffenbaugh will talk on the safe use of insecticides and fumigants, and will answer questions after his talk on a subject especially important to gardeners at this time of year.

Mrs. G. E. Short and Mrs. A. F. Svantesson will preside at the refreshment tables.

Expert Shares Book Knowledge in Classes

One of the enthusiastic Carmel citizens who has registered in the Carmel Unified School District Resource File, Mrs. Howard Bruggeman, an expert in her field of juvenile literature and owner of Carmel's juvenile book shop, "The Magic Fishbone" has been giving liberally of her time to speak before elementary school classes.

Mrs. Bruggeman will make her third visit to the one-room Palo Colorado School tomorrow, where the children find her fund of stories about life around them, fascinating. Besides the tales of nature, the forests and mountains and our wild life, Mrs. Bruggeman gives the youngsters and their mothers lists of books adapted to the children's ages.

Mrs. Bruggeman has already addressed members of the fifth and sixth grades at Carmello School where the required subjects are North and South American and early U.S. history.

The Unified School District Resource File is open to all adults who feel that the recounting of their experience in business or in a profession would be valuable to our school children, from first grade through high school. Mrs. Bruggeman reports that she has found her school visits a refreshing and inspiring experience.

Surprise!

A Carmel surprise party to top all surprises was given after last week's Symphony concert for Professor and Mrs. Walter Jennings (Mausita) by members of the Monterey County Symphony Association and Guild Boards of which she has long been a member.

More than half a hundred of Mausita's old old friends and fellow board members gathered in the home of Mrs. Sally Emma-Rose Layton to await the honor guests.

Walter and Mausita had been gathered up at Sunset, as the concert ended, by Mrs. Hans von Richter; along with pianist Bela Szilagi, guest artist of the Symphony, who had won roaring, stomping ovations for his superb performance, Symphony Conductor John Gosling and Mrs. Gosling and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Royall Mr. Royall is Symphony Assn. president.

The little group of V.I.P.'s went to the von Richter home for a night cap. It was a pre-arranged phone call from Mrs. Layton that lured them to her beautiful home in Carmel Woods.

"Surprise" was shouted as Mausita and Walter appeared, and surprised they were indeed.

On the dining table with its cloth of silver thread, the bon voyage cake, with its spun sugar topping, was the 'Carmel beach and the blue sea,' with a tiny toy ship 'afloat'. A second cake bore 16 candles in honor of Mr. Szilagi who celebrated his 30th birthday at midnight. Multi-color serpentine garlands floated from the ceiling. There were mounds of bon voyage 'fun' gifts. Pebbles, from Pebble Beach, sand from Carmel beach, a broken record for Mausita who has broken all records in her service to Carmel musicians and music lovers. The really smashed record, beautifully wrapped in music manuscript was the gift of John Gosling. There were handcuffs for Walter, to keep Mausita under control in far off Baghdad, and there were pine needles, to remind the "exiles" of The Pine Cone.

Sunrise wasn't far off when the guests,who will leave Carmel in May for a year in Baghdad where Professor Jennings will teach in the University, said "Good Morning!"

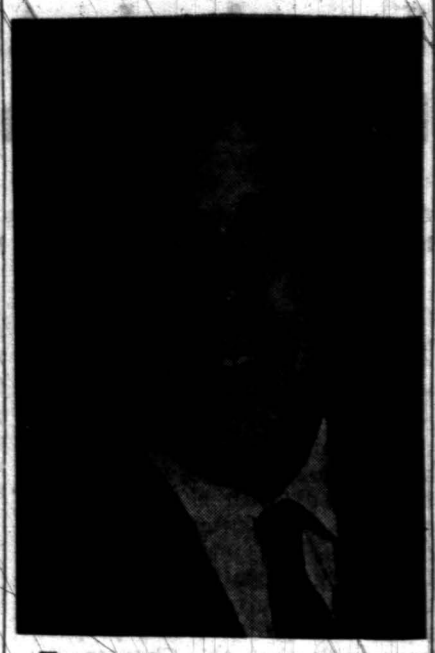
Carleton Macy On Tour With Varsity Band



Former Carmel High School bandsman, Carleton Macy, class of '62, as of now, sophomore at the University of Redlands, is blowing a French horn in the Redlands Concert Band.

Carleton, who blew the trumpet at Carmel Hi, is now in his second season with the varsity band. The organization averages 20 concerts a year off campus, at various schools and churches in northern California.

Scheduled in the immediate future are concerts in Golden Gate Park in San Francisco; the Bay area and in the Sacramento Valley.

The 50-member band was recently color televised in a 30-minutee program and is recognized as one of the leading concert bands on the west coast.

Mrs. Robert Sherry In Easter Seal Appeal

With Mrs. Robert Sherry as guest speaker, the Carmel Kiwanis celebrated its 15th anniversary with a luncheon at Pine Inn last Thursday, honoring nine past presidents of the organization.

Paid tribute for their past services in office were, Harold Nielsen, Jack Martin, "Doc" Staniford, Donald Sands, Frank Born, Walter Pilot, Howell Armor, Gene Harrah and Orville Rogers.

Gene Harrah introduced Mrs. Sherry (T.V. star Betty Conway) who made a moving appeal for the Easter Seal Drive.

Mrs. Sherry told her listeners that the drive, organized 57 years ago by a California Lions Club, to aid crippled and handicapped children, was the forerunner of many other groups across the country, dedicated to helping the handicapped.

"I do know the value of a dollar," Mrs. Sherry said, "and every local citizen is entitled to be assured that 75% of every dollar donated to the Easter Seal locally, never leaves Monterey Peninsula. Your dollars are spent to employ a speech therapist, for crutches and wheel chairs, and for a part time secretary.

"The two local doctors who give their time to our cases persuade other doctors and dentists to do the same.

"Ten percent of local donations goes to the national organization to train teachers and for research. Our state workers receive five per cent of your dollar and you can be sure their salaries are minimum."

In conclusion, Mrs. Sherry appealed to her audience, "Be kind to our handicapped children, they carry an intolerable burden."

Everybody Aided Carmel Red Cross in War Effort

No. 3 in the series of stories of the American Red Cross, Carmel Chapter, written by Dorothy James and Helen Heavey and appearing in the Carmel Pine Cone, March 16, 1961.

Dr. G. H. Taubles, Chapter Chairman, reviewing the Chapter activities for the year 1942 said, "Before 1939, the Red Cross in this community was performing complete an doutstanding service to the indigents, underprivileged and the unfortunates and meeting these needs with a great abundance of contributions in money, materials and personal service." Dr. Taubles continued by saying that it was through the previous years of experience and preparatory work that the Chapter was able to make the smooth transition to war time activities and service. More than that the Chapter had projected the peace time program into a potent element in the local organizinz against emergencies arising out of the war.

First Aid training, long a Chapter activity took on new dimensions as all villagers flocked to classes, many of which were held in private homes in different areas of the village. Home nursing, introduced during the influenza epidemic, was reinstated, and classes in Nutrition, started during the Great Depression, were continued. The Carmel Valley Unit, organized in 1941 by Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps, went into full operation with a First Aid Station and Ambulance and Canteen bus. A Surgical Dressing room was added in the Valley and workers were transported there from Carmel by a trained Motor Corps in a 20-passenger bus. The Production Service both in Carmel and the Valley became beehives of activity.

To meet the shortage of nurses in both civilian and military hospitals a new service known as Nurses Aide Service was organized. 163 women took the long 80-hour training and were the acknowledged "elite" of the Red Cross. Gray Ladies were trained by the Chapter for the first time in 1942 to serve at Fort Ord Hospital. Camp and Hospital Corps came into being as the group who were liaison between the community and the Army hospital, and on Post clubs. Their mission to supply entertainment, radios, refreshments, and even furniture for recreation rooms.

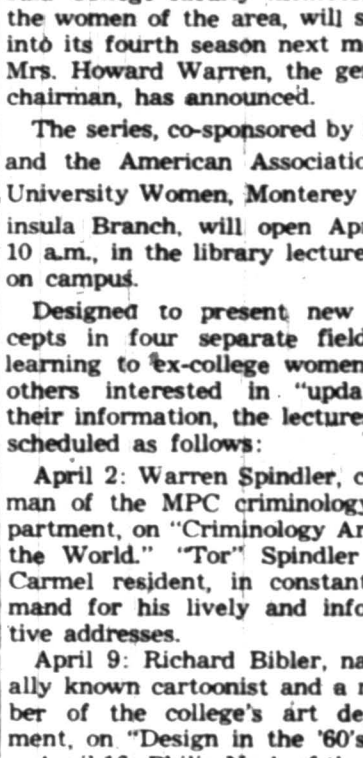
In 1942 the Red Cross moved into its first Chapter owned headquarters building on Dolores between 7th and 8th streets. (Now the Pine Cone Building). Materials and documents scattered all over Carmel were collected to be housed under the new "home roof." A large bo xwas built on the front of the building for the cellection of clothing and magazines, but occasionally extraneous items turned up during the night. Even, to the amazement of the Chapter, a case of empty gin bottles!

Service families flocking to the Village strained the existing housing facilities to the limit, and brought many problems to the Red Cross, the only official channel of communication between civilians and the men in the Armed Forces. Local residents joined in the deluge of requests for information regarding relatives in Europe, service men who had become prisoners of war, and even inquiries concerning interned Japanese gardeners. So great was the load that the Home Service department called upon the services of Dana Rood, Jr., who spent day after day as a volunteer with the sole duty of processing the requests and forms for prisoner of war messages and food packages.

On the other hand, many wives of servicemen, who were residing in the Village for the duration joined the volunteer services of the Chapter and gave valuable assistance. Mrs. John Taylor, whose husband was with the Pacific Fleet, became a Nurses Aide instructor. The late Mrs. Richmond Kelly Turner was an active worker through the trying days when her husband, Admiral Turner was reported missing in action for a brief period. In 1944, Admiral Turner, to show his appreciation of the Red Cross services he knew to be of such great morale boosting importance to the men in the South Pacific, presented the Chapter with a colored lithograph depicting the Fifth Amphibious Force capturing Pacific islands, entitled "Suddenly and Violently." The picture still hangs in the Chapter.

The need for blood was becoming more urgent, it being shipped to the Pacific area, and at this period the chapter undertook to transport local blood donors to the Blood Center in San Jose twice a month. The response was great.

The Junior Red Cross became inbued with the spirit of their elders and did their share of raising money for the chapter. At one time they arranged a dance at the High School, featuring jitterbug experts Bill Monroe and Nancy Fitzhugh. Admission, at 10 cents a head, netted the project and the Red Cross a full three dollars, which the promoters noted was far more than they had expected to make.



Warren Spindler Speaks At Operation 'Update'

"Operation Update," the popular annual series of Thursday morning lectures by Monterey Peninsula College faculty members for the women of the area, will swing into its fourth season next month, Mrs. Howard Warren, the general chairman, has announced.

The series, co-sponsored by MPC and the American Association of University Women, Monterey Peninsula Branch, will open April 2, 10 a.m., in the library lecture hall on campus.

Designed to present new concepts in four separate fields of learning to ex-college women and others interested in "updating" their information, the lectures are scheduled as follows:

April 2: Warren Spindler, chairman of the MPC criminology department, on "Criminology Around the World." "Tor" Spindler is a Carmel resident, in constant demand for his lively and informative addresses.

April 9: Richard Bibler, nationally known cartoonist and a member of the college's art department, on "Design in the '60's."

April 16: Philip Nash of the data processing department, and David Hopkins of the business department on "The Individual and Machines in Business Today."

April 23: Dr. Jack F. Leach, chairman of the history and institutions department, on "Politics in Election Year."

All women are invited to attend free of charge. Each lecture will begin at 10 a.m., to be followed at 11:00 with a coffee break and question-and-answer period until noon. A nursery service will be provided for pre-school-age children in the library basement, with a nominal fee to be charged. Reserved parking will be provided by the college.

Mrs. Warren will be assisted by Mrs. R. R. Lichty, and Mrs. R. B. Bomberger will head the coffee hour committee.

"Operation Update, "which was inaugurated at MPC in 1961, has earned the local AAUW many awards, and its format has been copied by AAUW branches over the state.

OBITUARIES

Irene Mary E. Graham

With the death of Irene Graham Saturday, March 14, Carmel lost a well loved citizen whose contribution to music of the Peninsula through more than a decade, was outstanding.

Born in Pennslyvania in 1898, Mrs. Graham was brought west by her family in her early childhood. Her study of the piano began long before she had reached her teens, and she told in a recent interview, that as a teen-ager she organized her own Girls Orchestra in Denver, Colorado.

In the mid-forties Irene, nee Kelly, accepted an offer from the Hammond Organ Company to manage their sales organization in San Diego, and it was there that she met and married Edward Graham (deceased April, 1963).

The young Grahams came to Carmel in 1950 and opened their Music Store on Mission Street. Within months, Mrs. Graham became a leading figure in our world of music. She was closely associated with Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous, as a friend and as a member of the Bach Festival Board, and for a number of years the Graham Music Store was headquarters for the festival's sale of tickets and for information.

Mrs. Graham organized the California State Music Teachers Association, and was its first president. Holding the franchise for the Hammond organ in Monterey and Santa Cruz counties, she founded the Hammond Organ Club whose membership today is in the hundreds.

Mrs. Graham was also a director of the Carmel Music Society and the Monterey County Symphony. She was a life member of the Carmel Woman's Club.

Charming and infinitely kind (impecunious young musicians whom she helped in this area are legion), Irene Graham, as a leader in our cultural world, as a neighbor and as a fine musician, will be sorely missed.

Private services were held for Mrs. Graham on Tuesday in the Little-Chapel-by-the-Sea, with the Paul Mortuary in charge.

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

Viewing the spectacular double waterfalls, Devil's Falls, on Devil's Creek, was the highlight of an all-day hike of Sierra Club members last Saturday. Club members, 46 of them, gathered at an early hour at Big Creek Bridge, about 20 miles south of Big Sur on Highway One, and through the generosity and kindness of the owners of Big Creek Ranch, Inc. (and the reputation that the Sierra Club has for conservation and respect for private and public lands) were admitted to their property for what proved to be a rewarding and memorable day.

The outing, led by Rudd Crawford of the Ventana Chapter of the Club, which was planned months in advance, was for experienced hikers, and included between 12 and 14 miles of steep jeep road and trail. It began a mile up along Devil's Creek, at a point beyond where Devil's Creek joins Big Creek and flows to the sea. From there, the large group hiked up the mountain to a ridge of the Santa Lucia where they had a thrilling view of the sea, winding Highway One, far below, and fold after fold of hills covered with a fresh growth of green grass and western slopes a carpet of owl's clover. Yellow violets, purple bush lupine and poppies were in abundance.

Leaving the jeep trail, the trail narrowed, passed beneath thick growth of tan bark oak and madrone, then suddenly plunged down the steep walls of the canyon, and through groves of redwood trees, for a first view of the magnificent flow of water coming over the sheer rock walls of the stream bed. Among the group there were expressions of appreciation for the privilege of spending a day in a true wilderness area, an area completely undisturbed by the pressures of civilization.

The controversial works of Ron Boise of Big Sur, whose sculptured pieces are made from cast-off, old model cars, are being displayed in a one-man show of his most recent collection, last Sunday at the Vorpal Galleries in San Francisco.

A swimming pool of unusual design, the design of Jack Morgenrath of Big Sur, is nearing completion at the Big Sur Hot Springs Lodge. The pool, cantilevered over the bluff in front of the lodge, is supplied with water from Hot Springs Creek.

The noted landmark, Big Sur Inn, situated south of Coastlands on Highway One at Castro Creek, has recently concluded a remodeling program of the kitchen facilities which included the addition of skylights and a more convenient and spacious arrangement for the various departments of food handling. The remodeling, the work of John Gamble and Associates of Carmel, has disturbed none of the rustic charm of the lovely Inn's dining rooms or exterior.

Recent distinguished visitors to The Sur Coast were Dr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Leonard, Jr., of northern California. Dr. Leonard, educator, author, traveler, recently retired as Dean of Principia College in Illinois and is the author of "As The Sowing," a history of The Principia Corporation.

Sunset Pupil Assembly Tomorrow Afternoon

Students of Sunset School will hold an assembly tomorrow afternoon in the school auditorium. One objective for the get-together of the fifth and sixth grade school is a report from the student council on its progress of the rules revision. The student council is in the process of forming its own set of school rules which it feels are necessary for the safety and convenience of all at the school. The council will propose their rules to Orville Rogers, principal, and the staff for consideration.

A program of vocal and instrumental music by the students, will follow. Miss Jo Brazell, a Sunset teacher, is responsible for the coordination of the program. The Sunset School band will present special numbers under the direction of Miss Sharon Jones, instrumental teacher in Carmel elementary schools.

Easter vacation will be March 23 to 27.

New Head of Carmel Foundation 'Key' Winner

Members of The Carmel Foundation at their Annual Meeting on March 5, elected seven members to the Board with terms expiring March, 1967. Capt. Archer M. R. Allen, Dr. Remsen Bird, Mr. George O. Carlson, Mrs. Carl E. Menneken, and Mrs. Wilfred E. van Loben Sels were re-elected for another term. Mr. Delano Brown and Mrs. Francis Moulton came on as new members. Mrs. John Cubbon had recently been elected to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Rudolph ver Mehr, her term expiring March 1965.

At a board meeting following the general meeting, the following officers were chosen:

Mrs. Fred L. Glascock, President; Mrs. Walter McCloud, Vicepresident; Mrs. Laurence B. Barretto, Secretary; Mr. Leet W. Bissell, Treasurer.

Mrs. Glascock has been an active member of The Carmel Foundation Board of Directors for four years, having served on the personnel, brochure, and other committees. She came to Carmel six years ago from Los Angeles where she served The Welfare Planning Council, on the Boards of Family Service, Visiting Nurses Association and Children's Welfare Bureau. As a recognition of her contributions to community service, she was given the "Gold Key Award" as Woman of the year by the Welfare Federation.

Book Reviews

THE NAKED SOCIETY, by Vance Packard, Published by David McKay Company, New York. Available now at The Wells Book Stores, Carmel and El Rancho Shopping Center.

The author of best sellers, The Waste Makers, The Status Seekers, The Hidden Persuaders, and The Pyramid Climbers, has come up with a brand new and timely treatise, having to do with the regimentation of today's growing population in the United States. Vance Packard examines the rapidly disappearing right of individual privacy under the onslaught of the pervading Big Government, Big Business, Big Education, and society in general. Unknown to most of us, an army of investigators is probing into our bank accounts, checking our private lives, even bugging our bedrooms, offices, and automobiles. This book may well be his most arresting contribution to our awareness of what goes on.

THE MADAMS OF SAN FRANCISCO, by Curt Gentry, is now available at The Wells Book Stores in Carmel, and is published Doubleday & Co., of Garden City, New York.

At first glance, according to the publisher, the madam seems a curious folk heroine. At second glance too. But San Francisco is a city that takes uncommon pride in its past sins, real or imaginary. The Madams of San Francisco is an examination of the myths that have arisen about the proprietresses of the city's so-called famous parlor houses.

Of course, there will be many who will ask, "Is this trip necessary?" However, history is history, whether it concerns waging wars, Indian massacres, train robberies, bootlegging, gangsters, or just open and shut murder. The pleasant things of life do not always constitute the whole of society or of its history.

Author Curt Gentry is now a free-lance writer after having been a book reviewer for the San Francisco Chronicle. He is the author of The Dolphin Guide to San Francisco and the Bay Area. His latest book goes back to the gold rush era of 1848 and succeeding years, down to the present-day Sally Stanford, who is now engaged in conducting an eating house in Sausalito, across the Bay.

This reviewer refrains from saying that this book could be classed as pornographic—far from it. Mr. Gentry has handled his subject with some restraint, although the inferences are quite frequently very obvious. We predict that this book will rate high on the best-seller list for 1964.

Junior Bach Festival Set For Early April

Six instrumental and choral ensembles, and 80 soloists, ranging from seven to 20 years of age, will be heard in the coming 11th annual Junior Bach Festival April 10-12. Vocalists, pianists, organists, string and woodwind instrumentalists will be included.

Opening with a pre-Festival rehearsal April 3, on KQED TV Channel 9, 7 p.m., the Festival will get under way April 10, at 8:00 p.m. in the Berkeley Little Theater. The Berkeley High School Baroque Orchestra will be among the ensembles on this program.

The second concert will be held on April 11 at 3:30 p.m. in the Alfred Hertz Memorial Hall, U. C. campus. Among other solo instruments, the organ will be heard, and the Modesto High School Concert Choir and Orchestra will close the program with Bach's Magnificat in D Major.

April 11 at 8:00 p.m., again at Hertz Hall, the third concert will take place. Arias from the Anna Magdalena Notebook, the sonata in G Major for two flutes, 'cello and piano, as well as the Burlingame High School String Ensemble with soprano soloist, performing The Coffee Cantata are among the more unusual numbers on this program.

The April 12 concert at 8:00 p.m. Berkeley Little Theater will be opened by the Glee Club of the California School for the Blind. The harpsichord will be heard in one ensemble, and the Helms Junior High Chorus of Richmond will also take part.

A Post-Festival "Alumni" Concert April 15, at 12:00 noon at Alfred Hertz Memorial Hall, U.C. campus, will bring to a close a season of exciting young talent, showing an increasingly high calibre of performance.

Tickets may be obtained by mail Junior Bach Festival Office, P. O. Box 590, Berkeley 1.

Arts and Literature

REVIEWED BY HARRY WELLESLEY FLETCHER

Now that your arts and literary editor has returned to full time work on the job, after nearly two months of hospitalization, there is no time to be lost wailing and moaning about the dear departed stomach. Our desk is stacked high with unanswered mail, unacknowledged contributions, besides the totally neglected get-well cards and messages sent from all parts of the country. We can only express our gratitude by doubling up on our efforts to make these pages sparkle with interest.

To those poets who have sent in their music and song, we must ask your indulgence while we catch up with the back log. If your contributions have not been returned, you may rest assured they will be published in due course, as space permits. —H. W. F.

THROUGH THE YEARS

I loved you long ago.
While heat throbbed thick from scorching roof,
I watched you, walking slow from late commuter train.
A little five-note whistle spun on air,
As turning the last dust filled corner,
You saw me waiting anxious there.
I answered, two quick trills on end,
For that meant home to you.

Both children had been fretful all the day,
And I was mother-tired and sick of trying,
Yet, as I smiled a little
Into your young husband eyes,
I knew that you had fought the clanging city
All day long for us,
And you were weary too.

Full forty years have passed
Like colored beads on thin bright strings
That drape the neck of time.
Our sons are husbands too,
Each in his self-chosen place,
And we keep house alone.

Swift trains speed cityward without you now,
While you stay close, tending our garden.
You plant new flowers
That please you with their fragrance
Blue hyacinths and prize daffodils,
With gold-frilled trumpets, ballet dancing
In the dawn. These do enchant you greatly.

I smile at you, as wiping your lined brown face
With very earth-stained handkerchief,
You grin at me, grimy and unashamed.
Then I make tall glasses of tinkling lemonade
And bring them where you work,
To show I love you still,
On this first shining day of Spring.

Rossini Comic Opera Presented at Saratoga

Villa Montalvo cultural center at Saratoga announces the next performance in the Carriage House Theatre will be an English version of Gioacchino Rossini's 1813 two-act comic opera, "Italian in Algiers," sung by Opera Workshop players from the University of California at Los Angeles on Sunday afternoon, March 22, at 3:30.

The delightful situation comedy, with its charming music which has a flavor of Gilbert and Sullivan, will be directed and conducted by the celebrated Jan Popper and presented in Montalvo's Carriage House Theatre.

Popper conducts the workshop at UCLA, and previously organized university workshops at the Berkeley campus and at Stanford. He last appeared at Montalvo in the Summer Music Festival of 1960 in an outdoor production of a comic opera. In this opera he plays one of two pianos, while the other is played by his assistant, Natalie Limonick.

Presented under auspices of the Montalvo Music Committee, advance reservations are recommended because of the limited audience capacity of 299 seats, says Mrs. A. A. Payette, chairman, by phone to 354-1905, or to Mrs. Stewart Thompson, 354-4040.

Brooks Clement Joins Emile Norman in Europe

On the eve of his departure for Europe last Wednesday, Brooks Clement, manager of the Emile Norman Galleries, showed us the water color just received from Emile who is on a European work tour, executing sculptures in bronze and marbles as well as painting.

With their home in Big Sur, in its setting of 200 acres, (where Brooks says they "raise scenery"), Brooks will join Emile today in Paris.

From Paris they will drive through France and Italy, stopping to visit galleries and hear music events.

Thru happy circumstance Mrs. Charles A. Dowdell, (Mrs. Dowdell and the late Canon Dowdell have been friends and patrons of Mr. Norman through many years) will be making the same tour and the three will arrive in Vienna for the Easter week festival of music.

The trio will return to New York in June. Mrs. Dowdell will remain on the east coast for a time, visiting friends. "Emile and I will be back in Carmel, in plenty of time for the Bach Festival," Brooks promises.

STUDENTS YOUR FANCY IS SHOWING

Strike matches, all! So, realists, watch your splinter
Sliding its impregnated tip
Across that functional sanded strip
To generate a flame for dark or winter—
But scorching your thumb! You spellbound, watch a bee,
Your topaz bee absorbing food that shows
Tangerine where hunger glows.
Look past that hunger sated. Now you see
Its charcoaled excrement lengthening till
Bright bee-sting up at your finger-tip
Triggers blown death to fire as to chip.
Yes, pragmatists, your match is "only an ashen spill".
What say you, dreamers—"Here a bee died, stinging"?
These heed no word: they listen toward a whir of winging.

LONG FACE OF THE RAIN

Rain is Woman crying through the ages
that her loving is done!

A million more, weeping Women, cold and frightened, wet and drear,
that their loved are lost —
then, as now, and again to them, gone!

For Woman must have a loving,
or become a thing,
frozen to ages
when her joint-race is run.

AGAINST MY WINTER WORLD

Against my winter world I fold my pride
About me, cloaking out the loveless chill
That iced my heart, rimmed all about. Oh, I'd Protect myself against the windy shrill
Of faithless words. My proud self I would hug
And toss the careless head, devil may care.
Aloof I'd stay and, with insouciant shrug,
Disdain warm hands of friendship that would dare
Console this heart. It needs no other heat.
I shall do very well thus wrapped about
Within the trappings of my own conceit,
And you . . . and love . . . I'll get along without.
Against my winter world I hold my pride —
And know the cold is really deep inside!

MARJORIE HORN WILSON
Evanston, Illinois.

AFTERMATH

I grow to love each silken guarded hour
Soft pastel strokes of rainbow ribboned rain
Rinsing shades of moon, revealing flowers
In light swirling on edges of pain.

Twilight voices . . . violet silhouettes
Of swallows swinging near a brocade sky
Distant cones of mountains splinter regrets
Winter's final avalanche of sighs.

Into empty corridors of commonplace
Grey velvet sleep of winter dreams I fling
Pink dogwood wanders weaving patterned lace
Unveiling Spring.

MARY ANN PUTMAN

THE UNWRITTEN SONG

There is a song deep in my soul,
I long to put in rime,
And etch it on an ageless scroll
That can't be scarred by time.

I've really been quite patient
But can't bring that treasure out,
With meters, new and ancient,
Tried in this esthetic bout.
Now I must decide
To forget ambition's flare,
And in my wounded pride,
Leave the thing lie buried there.

Villa Montalvo Offers Exhibit by Ralph Jacobs

Ralph Jacobs, versatile young artist of Monterey, will be featured at Villa Montalvo in the cultural center's art show, April 1 to 30. His representational oil paintings of portraits, landscapes and still life, will occupy two large galleries at the Villa, near Saratoga.

Sharing West gallery will be handpainted china by Marguerita Miffitt of Sunnyvale, while East gallery will contain a ceramics exhibit by Montalvo students instructed by Dr. Herbert Sanders, who will also present two demonstrations of art-in-action on Thursday, April 9 and April 23 at 2:30.

Jacob5s are has been the subjact of one-man shows at Ampex Corporation, Redwood City, Stanford Research Institute Rosecrucian Gallery, and elsewhere, and his paintings have been shown at de Young, San Francisco Santa Clara de Saisset gallery, and represented in private and public collections from South America to Beirut, Lebanon. He has won numerous awards, and belongs to various national and local art societies.

A resident of Monterey since 1959, he is one of the few young artists living solely from the sales of their art without income from other sources. He attended public schools in Fresno, but his formal art education came from private study with Evelyn Nadeau, Frederic Taubes, and Abel Warshawsky.

Villa Montalvo art galleries are open to the public without admission charge, Tuesday through Sunday, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Decisions Group Votes On Disarmament

In the balloting on last week's 'Great Decisions' topic: "Disarmament—alternative to the balance of terror?" Carmel's discussion groups voted, 92 per cent, to continue disarmament negotiations with the U.S.S.R. but make no agreements which do not fully safeguard U.S. security and do not provide for adequate inspection and control. Considering the control of arms rather than abandonment of them, there was a 71 per cent vote in favor of pursuing negotiations with the Russians, looking toward making the balance of terror as stable as possible. Nobody was in favor of trying to win the arms race, nobody would disarm unilaterally, and nobody would renounce adherence to the limited test-ban treaty.

With regard to setting up a United Nations police force to keep the peace, there was a 64 per cent vote in favor of doing so, but one group member wrote in the opinion that the UN must be reorganized to prevent its use, if possible, as a propaganda agency. This writer would have it set up on a world court basis without an army and at the same time have the U.S. drop its promise to wait until hit before striking. This writer felt such a promise to be illogical with many nations now getting nuclear weapons and "our very existence as people depending on the will of the Kremlin gang."

Another thoughtful comment written-in would have the U.S. strive for full cooperation with our western allies in the scientific, economic and foreign policy fields and so make ourselves impregnable to any Communist combination.

Am. Cancer Society Instructs Carmel Police

Carmel police and fire departments are being issued special instructions by the American Cancer Society for first aid treatment of laryngectomees.

Laryngectomees are men, women, sometimes children, whose voice boxes have been removed in cancer operations. First aiders who have learned to apply standard mouth-to-mouth resuscitation are being informed of possible fatal results when the method is attempted with accident victims who are laryngectomees.

Carmel area first aiders are being urged to contact the American Cancer Society office in Monterey for information on how to recognize the vital differences between conventional breathers and those who breathe through the neck, and the proper method of treatment.

Patron Convenience Is Security Bank Policy

Security National Bank of Monterey County received national recognition today for its recent outstanding growth. The American Bankers' Association announced in New York that in its rating of the nation's 5300 largest commercial banks, "the Security National Bank made a spectacular gain of 1643 places in rank since a year ago."

William A. Burkett, President of Monterey County's only home-owned, independent bank, founded 75 years ago in Pacific Grove, said today that he attributes the bank's recent growth to its policy of restoring Saturday morning banking and staying open until 5:30 p.m. daily for its customers.

Sale of Easter Seals Helps the Handicapped

The 1964 Easter Seal Campaign for funds to finance services for Monterey Peninsula county's crippled children and adults which opened March 1, will continue through Easter Sunday.

The drive in Monterey County is a part of a nationwide campaign conducted simultaneously by 1,425 other Easter Seal organizations, according to Mrs. E. B. Coyle, president of the Monterey Peninsula local Easter Seal affiliate.

The local organization is one of the 49 affiliates of the California Society for Crippled Children. Both local and state organizations are part of the National Easter Seal Society, which is now in its 43rd year of service to rehabilitate the physically handicapped

ORDINANCE NO. 97 C.S.

An ordinance calling a special Municipal Bond Election in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea for the purpose of submitting to the electors of said city the measure of incurring a bonded indebtedness of said city for the acquisition of the following municipal improvement, to wit:

Acquisition for Community and Cultural Center:

declaring the estimated cost of said municipal improvement, the amount of the principal of said indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the maximum rate of interest to be paid thereon; making provision for the levy and collection of taxes; fixing the date of said election, the manner of holding the same, providing for notice thereof, and consolidating said special municipal bond election with the General Municipal Election to be held on April 14, 1964.

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea (hereinafter sometimes called "the Council") by resolution duly passed and adopted at a meeting of the Council duly and regularly held, by affirmative vote of more than two-thirds of all its members, did determine that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition of the municipal improvement hereinafter mentioned, and did further determine that the cost of said proposed municipal improvement will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said municipality and that said municipal improvement will require an expenditure greater than the amount allowed therefor by the annual tax levy, and will require the incurring of a bonded indebtedness therefor, which resolution was duly entered on the minutes of said meeting of the Council, and is now on file and of record in the Clerk's office of said City; NOW, THEREFORE,

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. A special municipal bond election be and is hereby ordered and will be held in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea (hereinafter called "the City") on Tuesday, April 14, 1964, at which election shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the City the question of incurring a bonded indebtedness of the City for the object and purpose set forth in the following measure, to wit:

Measure:
(Acquisition for Community and Cultural Center)

Shall the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $575,000 for the acquisition for use as a municipal community and cultural center of the land and improvements located within said city commonly known as the Sunset School property, being all of blocks 97 and 110, Map of Carmel-by-the-Sea, including that portion of 9th Avenue lying between said blocks?

The estimated cost of the municipal improvement as set forth in said measure (including legal and all other fees incidental to or connected with the authorization, issuance and sale of the bonds evidencing the indebtedness proposed to be incurred for such municipal improvement and the costs of printing said bonds and all other costs and expenses incidental to or connected with the authorization, issuance and sale of said bonds) is the sum of $575,000 and the amount of the indebtedness proposed to be incurred for said municipal improvement is the sum of $575,000.

Section 2. The Council does hereby submit to the qualified electors of the City at said special municipal bond election said measure set forth in Section 1 of this ordinance, and designates and refers to said measure in the form of ballot hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(a) Said special municipal bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereof canvassed, and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined, as herein provided; and in all particulars not prescribed by this ordinance, said election shall be held as provided by law for the holding of municipal elections in the City.

(b) All persons qualified to vote at municipal elections in the City upon the date of the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote upon the measure submitted at said special municipal bond election.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

(c) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7:00 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 7:00 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Election Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(d) Said special municipal bond election hereby called shall be and is hereby consolidated with the General Municipal Election to be held in the City on April 14, 1964, all as required by and pursuant to law; and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the City for said special municipal bond election hereby called shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Council for said General Municipal Election by its Resolution No. 2138 entitled "RESOLUTION AND ORDER OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DESIGNATING PRECINCTS AND POLLING PLACES AND APPOINTING MEMBERS OF PRECINCT BOARDS FOR GENERAL MUNICIPAL ELECTION TO BE HELD ON TUESDAY, APRIL 14, 1964, RATIFYING THE CITY CLERK'S PUBLICATION OF A NOTICE OF ELECTION, AND DIRECTING THE CITY CLERK TO PUBLISH A LIST OF ELECTION OFFICERS AND POLLING PLACES AND NOTICE OF NOMINEES FOR PUBLIC OFFICE AND MEASURE TO BE VOTED ON," passed and adopted on March 4, 1964, to which resolution reference is hereby specifically made for a designation of the precincts, polling places and election officers of the special municipal bond election hereby called.

(e) Only one form of ballot shall be used at said General Municipal Election and said special municipal bond election hereby consolidated therewith, which, in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon, shall state the measure set forth in Section 1 hereof. Each voter to vote for said measure hereby submitted and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (x) in the blank space opposite the word "YES" on the ballot to the right of said measure, and to vote against said measure and against incurring said indebtedness shall stamp a cross (x) in the blank space opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of said measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (x) may be marked with pen or pencil.

(f) The returns of said election shall be made out and signed by the election officers and shall be by them deposited with the City Clerk, together with the ballots cast at said election; and the Council shall meet at its usual meeting place and canvass said returns on Tuesday, the 21st day of April, 1964 (the first Tuesday after said election) at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. and declare the result of said special municipal bond election and the result of said General Municipal Election.

Section 3. The Council proposes to issue and sell bonds of the City for the object and purpose, but not exceeding the amount, specified in said measure, if two-thirds of the qualified electors voting on such measure at said special municipal bond election shall vote in favor of said measure.

Said bonds shall be negotiable in form and of the character known as serial, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six (6) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually (except that interest for the first year after the date of said bonds may be made payable at or before the end of said year). Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: At the time of making the general tax levy after incurring the bonded indebtedness, and annually thereafter until the bonds are paid or until there is a sum in the treasury set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all payments of principal and interest on the bonds as they become due, the Council shall levy and collect a tax sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and such part of the principal as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; provided however, that if said bonds are authorized to be issued at said election, and if is expected that all or any part of said bonds will be sold at such time that the principal of or interest on such bonds will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied after such sale would be available to pay such principal or interest, the Council, at the time of fixing the annual tax levy, may levy a tax in an amount clearly sufficient to pay that portion of the principal of and interest on said bonds which it is expected will become due before the proceeds of the next succeeding tax levy will be available. If the earliest maturity of the bonds is more than one year after the date of issuance, the Council shall levy and collect annually a tax sufficient to pay the interest as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal on or before maturity. Such taxes shall be levied and collected as other City taxes and shall be in addition to all other taxes and shall be used only for payment of the bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 4. The City Clerk of the City is hereby directed, upon the passage and adoption of this ordinance, to publish the same once a week for two (2) weeks in the CARMEL PINE CONE, which is a newspaper of general circulation published less than six (6) days a week in the City, and such publication shall constitute notice of said election. No other notice of the election hereby called need be given.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the Council and in the Ordinance Book of the City. This ordinance, being an ordinance calling and ordering an election, shall take effect from and after its final passage and approval.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 10th day of March, 1964,.

CLERK'S CERTIFICATE

I, HUGH BAYLESS, City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, State of California, do hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance is a full, true and correct copy of an ordinance introduced and read at a regular meeting of the Council of said City duly and regularly and legally held on the 4th day of March, 1964, and said ordinance was thereafter duly passed and adopted by vote of at least two-thirds of all the members of the Council, at an adjourned regular meeting of the Council duly and regularly and legally held at the regular meeting place thereof on the 10th day of March, 1964, of which meeting all of the members of the Council had due notice, as follows:

Colorful Program Planned At Carmel Town House Wednesday

"Songs from Foreign Lands" will be the subject of a program presented on Wednesday, 3 p.m. at The Carmel Foundation Town House by Mrs. Lewis E. Davis.

Mrs. Davis accompanied her husband who was with the International Banking Corporation, to Manila, Shanghai and Thailand before the war and went to these same countries again after the war.

Wherever they lived Mrs. Davis collected music and folk songs, taught at Lingnan University in Singapore, and at the Blind School in Bangkok. She will compare experiences before and after the war and illustrate her travel adventures with playing and singing.

All interested are invited to the program and to the tea to follow, at whic hthe Girl Scouts will serve and after which they will present a short program.

the district. Under a new state law all schools will be required to teach one foreign language starting at the sixth grade level by the 1965-66 school year. Recently a search for teachers in the district interested in teaching languages got underway. To date, 18 have displayed an interest.

Teachers will take an eight week course, at the high school, in linguistics. It is the hope of the Language Committee that all 6, 7, and 8th grade teachers will have a minimal knowledge of French or Spanish, and that each elementary school will have one high skilled language teacher on the staff.

This week we met a tiny little Siamese kitten, pale as a glass of milk, with soft blue eyes, and his name is "Mankind." We couldn't think of how to work this into an ad, but we just thought you'd like to know. "Mankind" lives on top of the same mountain on which we listed, on the same day, the following property, so there is an ad connection after all!

AN ADOBE ON TOP OF THE WORLD

If you're beginning to feel hemmed in by civilization (mankind?) we'd like to show you a home with its face turned toward the magnificent Santa Lucia mountains as far as you can see to the South, East and West. Spacious ranch house, with a very large living room, big master bedroom with a Franklin fireplace, two smaller bedrooms, 2 baths, handmade Mexican tile floors and adobe and natural woods throughout. Electric stainless steel kitchen with pine cabinets. Even a partially completed lower level for expansion. No pool now, but a great spot for one! Nearly two acres, so there's lots of room for a horse and a garden. Just up the mountain from Carmel Valley Village, and just $48,500. A real pleasure to show you!

EVER CONSIDER A HOUSE SPANNING A RIVER?

We have the plot and the plan! Almost five acres on the Carmel River a few miles up the Valley, and two intriguing ideas for a house (1) cantilevered over the river or (2, spanning it. Or build on the meadow. Or both. Or sell off part of it. Lots of possibilities for an owner with flair and imagination. Price for the parcel, $20,000.

AND DON'T FORGET

Our Tea-and-Crumpets cutie pie for just $17,950—the lowest price for a furnished house and lot in Carmel. Buy yourself a wonderful motel room and make a good investment besides. Sleeps four or more, depending on size.

INCOME PROPERTY ON CARMEL LOT

The replacement value (but not the price) of these four, attractive, completely furnished, one-bedroom houses is in excess of $100,000. The income potential has never been fully tested. Over the years we've often been told, "If that property ever comes on the market, let me know immediately." But, as we knew the owner would never sell, we did'nt keep a list. However, his heirs do want to sell it, so it's on the open market at $85,000. Call us for an appointment to inspect.

DUAL-PURPOSE PROPERTY: Just listed, this well-built corner home provides living comfort plus income with a location within easy walking distance to Ocean Avenue. Livingroom with open ceiling, fireplace, and wood paneling; diningroom opening to sheltered south patio; compact kitchen with built-in equipment; two spacious bedrooms and two tiled baths. Lower floor bedroom and bath with private patio entrance as well as inside stairway. Central heating, laundry area, separate hobby room, double garage, complete fencing. Exclusievly listed at $42,500.

TRANQUIL SUBURBAN SETTING, yet not far from the Village, this very attractive residence in an exclusive area exemplifies charm in detail, good design, and a room arrangement that takes advantage of a sunny exposure and view. Two bedrooms, den with fireplace, three baths, equipped kitchen, spacious dining area, and livingroom with view. Radiant heating system, heavy shake roof, ranch-type protected entry, terraced planting, ample paved driveway, and private fencing . . . all items that make this a VERY PLEASING HOME!

ATTENTION, LOVERS OF OLD CARMEL! It's a delight to show this example of architecture that represents building when stone and fine wood were combined with good craftsmanship. Recently restored to fine condition by owners who have had experience in this activity, all of the original atmosphere remains. A sheltered courtyard opens to a mahogany-paneled livingroom which features a friendly hearth, aged redwood ceiling, and heavy door with heavy hand-made hinges. The master bedroom with its corner fireplace can serve as a den; the second bedroom has access to a morning patio; the country kitchen includes a dining-area. The garage provides storage and work-bench space. This "special" property is one of few such residences available on today's market.

Lewis Josselyn

Leaving with us a precious record of Carmel and the surrounding countryside of half a century ago, in folios of his photographs and paintings, Lewis Josselyn who had made Carmel his home since 1914, succumbed last Saturday following a stroke suffered a fortnight previously.

Death came to the octogenarian in his home at Santa Rita and Seventh. He was in his 81st year.

Mr. Josselyn was born in San Diego in 1883. He received his early education there and went on to the Boston Art School. His family moved to Carmel in 1914.

From that date forward, Mr. Josselyn with his easel or camera became a familiar figure, recording Carmel's winding paths long before they became named thoroughfares. One of his great contributions was the photographic record of California missions.

When the United States entered World War I, Mr. Josselyn enlisted and served overseas. He was an honorary life member of American Legion Post 41, Monterey.

Mr. Josselyn leaves his wife Jeanne of Carmel, a brother, Winsor Josselyn of San Carlos; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Josselyn of Carmel, and two neices, Barbara and Trudy.

Private services were held last Tuesday at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea under the auspices of the American Legion, Post 41. Inurnment, with military rites, took place at the Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno. Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Cuthbert Powell

Nationally known gynecologist and obstetrician, member of the College of Surgeons, the Western Surgeons Assn., the Central Ass'n. of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, Denver Pathological Society and the American Medical Ass'n., Dr. Cuthbert Powell of Carmel succumbed last Saturday in a local hospital. He was 86 years old.

Born in Danville, Virginia, Dr. Powell had his early schooling in Virginia and in Halifax, Nova Scotia. He attended the University of Colorado Medical School and was awarded his M.D. degree from the University of Denver Medical School in 1902.

It was in 1908 that the young doctor married Mary Wolburn Morrison. His illustrious career included service as professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Directly after World War I, in which he served, Dr. Powell came with his family to Carmel, and from 1920 to 1948 they lived at Carmelo and Fourth streets, where their son, Cuthbert, and their daughter, Virginia, now Mrs. Geo. A. Newton of St. Louis, Mo., grew up. Dr. Powell, a true Carmelite, was an enthusiastic member of the Padre Trails Camera Club, creating a lasting record of the surrounding forests, the beaches and the sea. His second avocation was woodcraft. When the Powells built their second Carmel home in Hatton Fields, Dr. Powell built the beautiful arbor.

Members of All Saints Episcopal Church, Dr. and Mrs. Powell contributed much to the parish life. It was Dr. Powell who built the bird houses on the church property.

Dr. Powell is survived by his wife, Mary; his daughter, Mrs. Newton, and his son Cuthbert, a resident of Carmel; a sister, Mary Powell Choats of Tampa, Florida; and seven grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held on Tuesday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Rev. David Hill, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, officiating. Inurnment was in El Carmelo Mausoleum, Pacific Grove. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Standing, Lions August Nieto, Ted Fehring, and vice-mayor James C. Buffington, Jr.

Ground Breaking Picnic And Ceremony Sunday

White Oaks Theatre invites its friends and all interested Peninsula residents to join in celebrating the ground-breaking for their new theatre to be completed this summer. The event will take place on Sunday at 1:30 p.m., and will be both a ceremony and a picnic.

Dr. William Pratt, chairman of the Theatre Guild, will give the invocation, and Mr. Rex White, president of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker. Beer and soft drinks will be served, and everyone is invited to make a family day of it — bring a picnic lunch and stay for a game of volleyball or horseshoes.

The site of the new theatre in Carmel Valley is located between Gardiner's Tennis Ranch and the Hide-a-way Motel.
